Northern Virginia Technology Council Announces the 2023 NVTC Tech100 Honorees

Celebration of Local Technology Companies, Executives and Next Generation Leaders to Be Held December 12, 2023

McLEAN, Va. (November 16, 2023) — Northern Virginia Technology Council (NVTC), the trade association representing the National Capital Region’s technology community, today announced the 2023 NVTC Tech100 honorees, including our region’s forward-thinking companies, top executives and emerging leaders who are driving innovation, developing breakthrough technologies, and contributing to economic growth.

“Congratulations to this year’s dynamic list of Tech100 honorees — a cross-section of innovators from the tech sectors of cyber, cloud, AI, software development, data centers, government IT and commercial tech,” said Jennifer Taylor, NVTC president and CEO. “I am so inspired by the positive impact these honorees have on the technology field. Our region continues to be one of the nation’s leading tech hubs – and with the exponential growth of responsible and trustworthy AI, our future is brighter than ever.”

The 2023 program attracted 200 nominations across three award categories:

- Company
- Executive
- NextGen Leader

A panel of independent judges — including Jamie Graham (Kipps DeSanto), Sam Maness (Raymond James), Jim McCabe (Clearsight Advisors), John Song (Baird) and Shiv Varma (KPMG) — reviewed the nominations. This year’s NVTC Tech100 is comprised of 61 tech companies, 33 executives and six emerging leaders who have demonstrated dedication, vision and innovation in our region.

Honorees will be recognized at this year’s NVTC Tech100 celebration with the theme of “A Night at the AI Art Museum” on December 12, 2023, from 6 – 8 PM EST at The Ritz-Carlton, Tysons Corner. Learn more about the event and purchase tickets here.
